

DIRT BIKE RACING

Ginny's favorite hobby was dirt bike racing. Her dad used to race and [hat/ you/ got] Ginny interested in the sport. Not [feed/ than/ many] girls raced bikes. Ginny had faced [many/ even/ read] stares and laughs. Most people thought [tell/ from/ dirt] bike racing was too dangerous for [maybe/ girls/ times].

Ginny's dad had prepared Ginny for [that/ bare/ many] negative remarks. He always said that [if/ on/ up] you enjoyed what you were doing and [best/ were/ pull] prepared for the dangers, then it [least/ start/ didn't] matter what other people said. Ginny [matter/ every/ loved] the support she got from her [say/ dad/ new].

Being a girl in a sport [that/ how/ dish] boys mostly competed in made Ginny [all/ try/ age] even harder. Ginny practiced every day [how/ was/ for] at least three hours.

Ginny practiced [on/ to/ be] a course her father had built. [As/ To/ It] was not as difficult as some [in/ of/ a] the courses Ginny competed on. The [impress/ already/ course] did make Ginny work to finish [with/ came/ help] a winning time.

Recently Ginny had practiced [extra/ maybe/ found] hard. There was gong to be [it/ on/ a] big race in two weeks. Ginny [wanted/ during/ amazed] to win so much that she practiced [for/ how/ and] practiced. She read books on dirt [bike/ hour/ some] techniques. She talked with her dad [loved/ watch/ about] ways to race faster. She also [talked/ throwing/ finally] to her dad's friends who used [to/ did/ of] race. With all of the preparation, Ginny [big/ was/ men] feeling confident in her

4.9 ability to [all/ win/ set].

The day of the race finally [home/ pull/ came]. Ginny and her dad were both [nervous/ leaves/ ability]. She overheard some parents saying that [hike/ girls/ trick] shouldn't be in the race. Dirt [bike/ have/ seen] racing was not a girl's sport! Ginny [between/ outside/ ignored] the comments.

All of the racers [lined/ shall/ songs] up and the gun went off [all/ and/ now] the race began. Ginny started in [the/ pot/ sat] middle of the pack of racers. [We/ On/ It] was a tough course and many [times/ finds/ corner] Ginny had to go around bikers [hat/ put/ who] had fallen. It had rained the [night/ lined/ face] before and the course was muddy [did/ in/ to] some places.

Ginny fought hard to [part/ move/ many] to the front of the race. [For/ Was/ She] pedaled as fast as she could. [When/ Pork/ Knob] she faced a difficult hill, Ginny [some/ many/ gave] all of herself to overcome the problems.

[In/ Of/ As] Ginny rounded the last corner of [off/ the/ may] course, she and one other racer [were/ same/ rain] tied for first. Ginny could hear [how/ all/ her] father yelling for her to give [it/ on/ as] her best. Ginny gave it all [she/ was/ fed] had left. Ginny crossed the finish [rain/ even/ line] as the winner.

Ginny received a [maybe/ check/ work] and a trophy. She thought to herself [with/ that/ hour] maybe now people would think differently [into/ would/ about] girls in dirt bike racing.
